Maj gen vols 1812 to 1814; brig gen U S A 19 Apr 1814; maj gen 1 May 1814; recd the thanks of congs 27 Feb 1815 as follows: "That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, given to Maj. Gen. Jackson, and through him to the officers and soldiers of the regular army, of the militia, and of the volunteers, under his command, the greater proportion of which troops consisted of militia and volunteers suddenly collected together, for their uniform gallantry and good conduct conspicuously displayed against the enemy from the time of his landing before New Orleans until his final expulsion therefrom; and particularly for their valor, skill and good conduct on the 8th of January last in repulsing with great slaughter a numerous British army of chosen veteran troops when attempting, by a bold and daring attack, to carry by storm the works hastily thrown up for the protection of New Orleans; and thereby obtaining a most signal victory over the enemy, with a disparity of loss on his part unexampled in military annals.

"Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to cause to be struck a gold medal, with devices emblematical of this splendid achievement, and presented to Maj. Gen. Jackson as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his judicious and distinguished conduct on that memorable occasion.

"Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to cause the foregoing resolution to be communicated to Maj. Gen. Jackson in such terms as he may deem best calculated to give effect to the objects thereof."

Lafayette, Marie Jean Paul Joseph Roch Yves Gilbert du Motier —— Marquis de. France. France. Maj gen cont l army 31 July 1777; wounded at Brandywine 11 Sept 1777. By the act of 21 Oct 1778, it was "Resolved, that the Marquis de la Fayette, major-general in the service of the United States, have leave to go to France, and that he return at such time as shall be most convenient to him. Resolved, that the President write a letter to the Marquis de la Fayette, returning him the thanks of Congress for that disinterested zeal which led him to America, and for the services he hath rendered to the United States, by the exertion of his courage and abilities on many signal occasions. Resolved, that the minister plenipotentiary of the United States of America at the court of Versailles be directed to cause an elegant sword, with proper devices, to be made and presented, in the name of the United States, to the Marquis de la Fayette."

Sailed for France 11 Jan 1779; returned to the U S 27 Apr 1780. By the act of 25 Nov 1781 it was "Resolved, that major-general the Marquis de la Fayette have permission to go to France, and that he return at such time as shall be most convenient to him; that he be informed that on a review of his conduct throughout the past campaign, and particularly during the period in which he had the chief command in Virginia, the many new proofs which present themselves of his zealous attachment to the cause he has espoused, and of his judgment, vigilance, gallantry, and address in its defense, have greatly added to the high opinion entertained by Congress of his merits and military talents; that he make known to the officers and troops whom he commanded during that period that the brave and enterprising services with which they seconded his zeal and efforts, and which enabled him to defeat the attempts of an enemy far superior in numbers, have been beheld by Congress with particular satisfaction and approbation." ——; returned to France 22 Dec 1781; [died 30 May 1834.]

By the act of 4 Nov 1777 it was "Resolved that the thanks of Congress in their own name and in behalf of the thirteen United States be presented to Major-General Gates, commander in chief of the northern department, and to Major-Generals Lincoln and Arnold and the rest of the officers and troops under his command for their brave and successful efforts in support of the independence of their country, whereby an army of the enemy of 10,000 men has been totally defeated; one large detachment of it, strongly posted and entrenched, having been conquered at Bennington, another repulsed with loss and disgrace from Fort Schuyler, and the main army under General Burgoyne, after being beaten in different actions and driven from a formidable post and strong entrenchments, reduced to the necessity of surrendering themselves upon terms honorable and advantageous to these States, on the 17th day of October last, to Major-General Gates."

Surrendered at Charleston 12 May 1780; prisoner of war until exchanged Nov 1780; Secretary War 30 Oct 1781; resigned 29 Oct 1783 but requested by Congress to perform the duties thereof to 12 Nov 1783. By the act of 29 Oct 1783 it was "Resolved that the resignation of Major-General Lincoln, as Secretary of War for the United States, be accepted in consideration of the earnest desire which he expresses (the objects of the war being so highly accomplished) to retire to private life, and that he be informed that the United States in Congress assembled entertain a high sense of his perseverance, fortitude, activity, fidelity, and capacity in the execution of the office of the Secretary of War, which important trust he has discharged to their entire satisfaction." "Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: 1. That Congress deems it just and proper to enter upon its records a recognition of the eminent and patriotic services of the late Brig. Gen. Nathaniel Lyon. The country to whose service he devoted his life will guard and preserve his fame as a part of its own glory.

"2. That the thanks of Congress are hereby given to the brave officers and soldiers who, under the command of the late Gen. Lyon, sustained the honor of the flag and achieved victory against overwhelming numbers at the battle of Springfield, Mo.; and that, in order to commemorate an event so honorable to the country and to themselves, it is ordered that each regiment engaged shall be authorized to bear upon its colors the word 'Springfield,' embroidered in letters of gold. And the President of the United States is hereby requested to cause these resolutions to be read at the head of every regiment in the Army of the United States."

Washington, George. Va. Va. General and Commander-in-Chief of all the forces raised or to be raised 15 June 1775.

By the resolve of 25 Mar 1776 "That the thanks of this Congress, in their name and in the name of the Thirteen United Colonies whom they represent, be presented to his excellency General Washington and the soldiers under his command for their wise and spirited conduct in the siege and acquisition of Boston, and that a medal of gold be struck in commemoration of this great event and presented to His Excellency, and that a committee of three be appointed to prepare a letter of thanks and a proper device for the medal."

By the act of 7 Oct 1777 it was "Resolved, unanimously, that the thanks of Congress be given General Washington for his wise and well-concerted attack upon the enemy's army at Germantown on the 4th inst., and to the officers and soldiers of the army, for their brave exertions on that occasion, Congress being well satisfied that the best designs and boldest efforts may sometimes fail by unforeseen incidents; trusting that on future occasions the valor and virtue of the army will, by the blessing of Heaven, be crowned with complete and deserved success."

By the act of 7 July 1778 it was "Resolved, unanimously, that the thanks of Congress be given General Washington for the activity with which he marched from the camp at Valley Forge in pursuit of the enemy; for his distinguished exertions in forming the line of battle, and for his great good conduct in leading on the attack and gaining the important victory of Monmouth over the British grand army, under the command Sir H. Clinton, in their march from Philadelphia to New York."

By the act of 26 July 1779 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of Congress be given to His Excellency General Washington for the vigilance, wisdom, and magnanimity with which he hath conducted the military operations of these States, and which are among many other signal instances manifested in his orders for the late glorious enterprise and successful attack on the enemy's fortress on the banks of Hudson River."

By the act of 24 Sept 1779 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of Congress be given His Excellency General Washington for ordering, with so much wisdom, the attack on the enemy's fort and works at Powles' Hook."

By the act of 14 Oct 1779 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of Congress be given His Excellency General Washington for directing an expedition against such of the Indian nations as, encouraged by the councils and conducted by the officers of his Britannic Majesty, had perfidiously waged an unprovoked and cruel war against these United States, laid waste many of their defenceless towns, and with savage barbarity slaughtered the inhabitants thereof."

By the act of 27 Oct 1779 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of Congress be given to His Excellency General Washington for directing the important expedition against the Mingo and Munsey Indians and that part of the Senecas on the Allegheny River, by which the depredations of those savages, assisted by their merciless instigators, subjects of the King of Great Britain, upon the defenceless inhabitants of the western frontiers have been restrained and prevented."

By the act of 29 Oct 1781 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of the United States, in Congress assembled, be presented to His Excellency General Washington for the eminent services which he has rendered the United States, and particularly for the well-concerted plan against the British garrisons in York and Gloucester; for the vigor, attention, and military skill with which that plan was executed, and for the wisdom and prudence manifested in the capitulation, * * * and that General Washington be directed to communicate to the officers and soldiers under his command the thanks of the United States, in Congress assembled, for their conduct and valor on this occasion. * * * That two stands of colors taken from the British army under the capitulation of York be presented to His Excellency General Washington in the name of the United States in Congress assembled."

At request, Gen. Washington attended Congress, 26 Aug., 1783, and, being introduced by two members, the President addressed him as follows:

"Sir: Congress feel particular pleasure in seeing Your Excellency, and in congratulating you on the success of a war in which you have acted so conspicuous a part. It has been the singular happiness of the United States that during a war so long, so dangerous, and so important, Providence has been graciously pleased to preserve the life of a general who has merited and possessed the uninterrupted confidence and affection of his fellow-citizens. In other nations, many have performed services for which they have deserved and received the thanks of the public. But to you, sir, peculiar praise is due. Your services have been essential in acquiring and establishing the freedom and independence of your country. They deserve the grateful acknowledgments of a free and independent nation. Those acknowledgments Congress have the satisfaction of expressing to Your Excellency. Hostilities have now ceased, but your country still needs your services. She wishes to avail herself of your talents in forming the arrangements which will be necessary for her in time of peace. For this reason your attendance at Congress has been requested. A committee is appointed to confer with Your Excellency and to receive your assistance in preparing and digesting plans relative to those important objects."

To which His Excellency made the following reply:

"Mr. President: I am too sensible of the honorable reception I have now experienced not to be penetrated with the deepest feelings of gratitude. Notwithstanding Congress appear to estimate the value of my life beyond any services I have been able to render the United States, yet I must be permitted to consider the wisdom and unanimity of our national councils, the firmness of our citizens, and the patience and bravery of our troops, which have produced so happy a termination of the war, as the most conspicuous effect of the Divine interposition and the surest presage of our future happiness. Highly gratified by the favorable sentiments which Congress are pleased to express of my past conduct, and amply rewarded by the confidence and affection of my fellow-citizens, I can not hesitate to contribute my best endeavors towards the establishment of the national security in whatever manner the sovereign power may think proper to direct, until the ratification of the definitive treaty of peace, or the final evacuation of our country by the British forces; after either of which events I shall ask permission to retire to the peaceful shade of private life. Perhaps, sir, no occasion may offer more suitable than the present to express my humble thanks to God, and acknowledgments to my country, for the great and uniform support I have received in every vicissitude of fortune, and for the many distinguished honors which Congress have been pleased to confer upon me in the course of the war."

In Congress, 23 Dec., 1783:

According to order, His Excellency, the Commander in Chief, was admitted to a public audience, and, being seated, the President, after a pause, informed him that the United States, in Congress assembled, were prepared to receive his communications; whereupon he arose and addressed them as follows:

"Mr. President: The great events on which my resignation depended having at length taken place, I have now the honor of offering my sincere congratulations to Congress and of presenting myself before them to surrender into their hands the trust committed to me, and to claim the indulgence of retiring from the service of my country.

"Happy in the confirmation of our independence and sovereignty, and pleased with the opportunity afforded the United States of becoming a respectable nation, I resign with satisfaction the appointment I accepted with diffidence in my abilities to accomplish so arduous a task; which, however, was superseded by a confidence in the rectitude of our cause, the support of the supreme power of the Union, and the patronage of Heaven.

"The successful termination of the war has verified the most sanguine expectations; and my gratitude for the interposition of Providence and the assistance I have received from my countrymen increases with every review of the momentous contest.

"While I repeat my obligations to the army in general, I should do injustice to my feelings not to acknowledge in this place the peculiar services and distinguished merits of the gentlemen who have been attached to my person during the war. It was impossible the choice of confidential officers to compose my family should have been more fortunate. Permit me, sir, to recommend in particular those who have continued in the service to the present moment as worthy of the favorable notice and patronage of Congress.

"I consider it an indispensable duty to close this last act of my official life by commending the interests of our dearest country to the protection of Almighty God, and those who have the superintendence of them to His holy keeping.

"Having now finished the work assigned me I retire from the great theatre of action, and bidding an affectionate farewell to this august body, under whose orders I have so long acted, I here offer my commission and take my leave of all the employments of public life."

He then advanced and delivered to the President his commission, with a copy of his address, and, having resumed his place, the President returned him the following answer:

"Sir: The United States in Congress assembled receive with emotions too affecting for utterance the solemn resignation of the authorities under which you have led their troops with success through a perilous and a doubtful war. Called upon by your country to defend its invaded rights, you accepted the sacred charge before it had formed alliances and whilst it was without funds or a government to support you. You have conducted the great military contest with wisdom and fortitude, invariably regarding the rights of the civil power through all disasters and changes. You have, by the love and confidence of your fellow-citizens, enabled them to display their martial genius, and transmit their fame to posterity. You have persevered till these United States, aided by a magnanimous king and nation, have been enabled, under a just Providence, to close the war in freedom, safety, and independence; on which happy event we sincerely join you in congratulations.

"Having defended the standard of liberty in this new world; having taught a lesson useful to those who inflict and to those who feel oppression, you retire from the great theatre of action with the blessings of your fellow-citizens, but the glory of your virtues will not terminate with your military command; it will continue to animate remotest ages.

"We feel with you our obligations to the army in general, and will particularly charge ourselves with the interests of those confidential officers who have attended your person to this affecting moment.

"We join you in commending the interests of our dearest country to the protection of Almighty God, beseeching Him to dispose the hearts and minds of its citizens to improve the opportunity afforded them of becoming a happy and respectable nation. And for you we address to Him our earnest prayers, that a life so beloved may be fostered with all His care, and that your days may be happy as they have been illustrious, and that He will finally give you that reward which this world can not give."
